Judge Rebuke British Labor Party as Socialists From Many Countries Protest at Geneva

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Geneva, June 21.—For the first time in the history of Italy, members of all ranks of the courts of law, from the heads of the Supreme Court of Cassation to officials of the ordinary courts, have pronounced a solemn protest against a resolution passed by the British Labor party, which recently passed a resolution relative to the kidnapping of the Italian Deputy Matteotti and expressing "warm sympathy" for the forces trampling upon the fundamental principles of democracy.

Actual Opening of Drive to Wait on Conclusion of Democrat Session

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, June 21.—President Coolidge conferred today with William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and other political advisers in the first of a series of conferences at which the program for the national campaign is expected to be molded.

Arriving here today, Mr. Butler reported the party headquarters are set up in Chicago and declared "we are ready for the campaign." He told Mr. Coolidge the nomination of Charles G. Dawes for Vice-President has been received enthusiastically, particularly in the Western States.

FIRE'S TOLL MILLIONS

La Joya Lodge Is Destroyed

San Francisco Canyon in Grip of Wind-Driven Timber Flames

Hundreds of Men Battle to Check Spread; Control Believed Near

La Joya Lodge, one of the mountain beauty spots of Southern California, located in San Francisco Canyon several miles north of Saugus, and the scene of a pleasure ground development project in which more than $2,000,000 was reported to have been invested, was swept clean by a forest fire that started about 10 a.m. yesterday and, fanned by a high wind, swept through the canyon bottom and up the sides of the hills threatening to cross the ride into Bouquet Canyon.

The monetary loss of the buildings is little compared to the destruction of the watershed and the trees, which can be replaced only after many years," declared County Forester Plintham last night.

The canyon about La Joya Lodge was unique for an abundant growth of huge trees. These were reported virtually all destroyed, according to the Newhall Forest Service station.

No one was injured in the fire, and as far as could be learned, first reports were that a party of Los Angeles campers had been cut off.

WOMAN MAY HOLD KEY TO MAIL CACHE

Wife of Man Indicted in $2,000,000 Hold-up Held as Important Witness

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CHICAGO, June 21.—A woman may know the hiding place of securities and money totaling more than $2,000,000 obtained by bandits in the hold-up of a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul mail train, Chicago ten days ago. Federal officials indicated tonight.

The woman is Louise Drakos of New London, Wis., who says she is the wife of Willis Newton, one of ten men indicted for the robbery. She was seen by the police when she came here immediately after Newton's arrest and took $36,000 for her own mail pouches and gave him to buy his freedom.

The money was seized by officers, indication of the importance which the authorities attach to holding the woman was seen today when it was found that she had been turned over to the Federal authorities by the police and had been spirited out of Cook county and to Sycamore, Ill., where she is in jail.

Postoffice inspectors said that they had traced a letter from Chicago to the woman at New London on the day of the robbery. They believe she is being led to believe that the woman drove her own automobile to Joliet, Ill., where the robbers had their headquarters. Mrs. Lydig Again Says She Won't Marry Dr. Grant

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, June 21.—Mrs. Rita De Acosta Lydig today denied that the announcement she made last week, breaking her engagement to Dr. Percy Stickney Grant is in any manner affected by Dr. Grant's resignation from the Episcopal church of the Ascension.

Dr. Grant gave out a statement denying reports that he resigned to wed Mrs. Lydig.

Coast-to-Coast Hop of Maughan Again Postponed

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
MINEOLA (N. Y.) June 21.—Again compelled by fog and cloudy skies to abandon the start of his third attempt to fly from New York to San Francisco by air, Maughan today declared he had postponed his effort to the first fair-weather day next week.

He said he is in readiness for the flight and will be off at dawn Monday if possible.

FRIENDSHIP OF AMERICA ESSENTIAL TO JAPAN

Boycott and Jingos Called Off as Credit and Trade Menaces Follow Demonstrations

(BY EUGENE J. YOUNG
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH])
NEW YORK, June 21.—Less than two weeks ago the press of London was solemnly discussing the prospects of a war between Japan and the United States. There were broad hints in this country that one was on the way, perhaps in the very near future, because of the clash over the exclusion clause of the immigration bill. Japan seemed in a ferment against us.

Military reservists and other patriots were staging great demonstrations. Americans were threatened. The situation was serious.

Now the agitation in Japan has suddenly halted and is rapidly ceasing. The boycott is off. We are told officially it was promoted by Japanese traders and did not represent the will of the people. The police are warning demonstrators to quit. Japanese spokesmen are assuring us the people want friendship with America.

All of which is no surprise to those who know conditions in Japan and who have observed before and after the outbreak in Tokyo and heard machine-made speeches and saw the Japanese flag waving over the Japanese throne.

Financial and political reasons are being advanced to bring it about. The chief phases were:

TAX REFUND STARTS JULY 1

Mellon Prepares to Make Income Payments as Plan is Held Legal by Comptroller

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, June 21.—The Treasury will be ready July 1 to refund more than $14,000,000 overpaid in income taxes March 15 last, as a result of the subsequent 25 per cent reduction granted by Congress. In a decision rendered today the Treasury was advised that it may use any funds appropriated for the payment of illegally collected taxes. The decision was made by the Comptroller of the Treasury, who has ruled that the extra 25 per cent turned in by 1,085,000 persons. The decision is an obligation upon the appropriation for the fiscal year when the right arose and not necessarily the appropriation for the fiscal year when the claim is made.

Congress since January has provided $117,000,000 for the Treasury in refunding taxes illegally collected. About $30,000,000 of this sum remains for the Treasury to pay out. The decision can be used in settling with those who on March 15 paid all of the taxes then due for the year.

Few of the refunds will be large, the amounts seldom exceeding $100. Repayment of the 25 per cent may mean, however, that some of the contested tax claims pending for months or years in some cases, may not be settled before new appropriations are granted.

NEW YORK MAKES "FREE" KEYNOTE OF DEMOCRATS

Fun Without Pay Is Dominant Rule of City and Convention Itself Will be "Free-for-All"

(BY KYLE D. PALMER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH])

NEW YORK, June 21.—Whether it be McAdoo or Smith, Ralston or Davis, Glass or Ritchie, or another, the delegates to the Democratic National Convention will have a good time in New York if free dancing lessons, free bus rides, free moonlight cruises on the Hudson, free afternoon tea, a special reduced rate for Ziegfeld's Follies and an extraordinary program at the Hippodrome, including Gilda Gray, can compensate for a week or ten days of frenzy in Madison Square Garden.

Democrat Dark Horses Gaze on Battle-Royal with Grim Satisfaction

Klan and Other Issues Give Way to Fireworks in Candidates' Duel

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, June 21.—The fight for the Democratic Presidential nomination has become a resolute tug-of-war between the supporters of McAdoo and Smith, with partisans of a dozen favorite sons looking on with an apparent air of grim satisfaction over the prospect.

Three days before the national convention begins in Madison Square Garden the McAdoo and Smith camps both are making unqualified claims of a victory already won, but none the less the groups of unpledged delegates who hold the whip hand are being edged by acme and outmaneuvered by the two contestants as they arrive in increasing numbers to swell the convention crowds already here.

The activities of the field forces of the two leading candidates today cast into shadow every other feature of the big quadrennial show. The Democratic National Convention, which is to open in the city tomorrow, is being overshadowed by the contest between the two camps. The McAdoo camp is making unqualified claims of a victory already won, but none the less the groups of unpledged delegates who hold the whip hand are being edged by acme and outmaneuvered by the two contestants as they arrive in increasing numbers to swell the convention crowds already here.

There is a complete realization, of course, that the Klan question and some of the other problems before the convention are submerged but temporarily. They are expected later on to kindle into flame with the rivalries they have created, and to add many a delegate and their leaders are engaged in the much more personal and human grapple of two out-

INSURGENT HOPES BLASTED

Selfish Interest and Rail Union Opposition Block Progressive Third Party Plans

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, June 21.—Lack of cohesion among the forty-eight varieties of third-party advocates, each variety with a particular axe to grind, and its own selfish interests to serve, coupled with the underlying opposition of the powerful railroad brotherhoods to the launching of an independent political party at the Cleveland conference, July 4, virtually has blasted the hopes of "Progressives" to enter a third-party ticket in the Fall election.

With La Follette lurking in the background as a contender for the Presidency on any third-party ticket, the leaders of the railroad brotherhoods will center their attention on the Democratic National Convention. They are anxious to know whether their threat to run La Follette on a third-party ticket has the desired effect—the nomination of McAdoo.

Should McAdoo be defeated, there are a half-dozen dark-horse candidates bidding for Democratic honors, the nomination of any one of whom would crush the "progressive movement overnight."

In this event, it is pointed out, it would be extremely unwise for the railroad unions to cut loose from the two old parties and align themselves with a potpourri of malcontents.

The rail unions are especially favorable to McAdoo, who gave them the most favorable treatment during the war period.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, does not favor the formation of a third party or the breaking away from the old parties by the labor unions, but he is not opposed to using the third-party threat to force opposition of labor demands by both old parties.

SLACKER OATH EFFORT IS HIT

Head of D.A.R. in Warning on Pacifist Menace

Denounces War But Pleads for Real Loyalty

"Youth Movement" from Old World Held Danger

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, president of the Daughters of the American Revolution, today sent out a communication to all State regents of the organization warning them against the activities of such pacifist groups as the so-called "peace societies" which, in many instances are being formed by those who are knowingly and deliberately disloyal to the American government and American political institutions.

Mrs. Cook stated it is the sacred duty of her organization to help to combat and endeavor to counteract the activities of the societies that are trying to do this in a similar unpatriotic promise of their members. With this end in view, Mrs. Cook has sent out several pamphlets, setting forth the history of these movements in question, their aims and their methods of working for their ends. Among these studies is one on the "youth movement" which is "the most cowardly of all old world evils" that has been brought to American shores. It aims, she stated, "to attack our most sacred social and moral foundations and will if promulgated in our secondary schools and colleges aim to destroy the moral fiber of our girls and boys."

Mrs. Cook stated further, "pacifist groups in America have waxed strong because of their sentimental appeals to our women and our women's organizations. Far-reaching propaganda societies with salaried executives of persuasive oratory but twisted twist have endeavored to introduce their specious arguments by letter, pamphlets and word of mouth throughout the length and breadth of our land. They have even invaded our schools with their doctrines. Indeed, one group has a widely advertised set of illustrated 'school literature,' especially devised for the general public of the United States. It is a circular upon its success and popularity."

SUPPORT NATION
 "Daughters of the American Revolution are very far from being proponents of war. They are opposed to it, as are all right-minded thinking people, but it is necessary to give the fundamental laws of God and man are set aside—then they are pledged to the loyal support of their nation and they believe with the President of the United States in its adequate defense at all times by land and sea."

"What we actually need in our national defense is that individuals and societies shall cling fast to the good, so-called, old-fashioned virtues, with their standards of clear thinking and honest living, and that we shall have a God-fearing respect in our hearts and minds with regard to the observance of law and order."

"We of our society believe that women have a great mission to perform in the world today, and nowhere is that mission greater than in America, but we know that we shall most successfully set about it in our new era of political equality, not by aiding and abetting the forces which would destroy our governmental agencies, but by upholding with our most earnest efforts the government for which our forefathers fought and died. Daughters of the American Revolution believe that every boy and girl in America today is entitled to full participation in the blessings of the era of freedom and good government made possible by the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States and that they mean to oppose with all the vigor and strength of their beings any individual or groups of individuals who would substitute for them resolutions, untried theories and dangerous Communist doctrines."

PETITIONS TO GO OUT FOR MYERS

Signatures Will be Sought to Put Jurist on Ballot as State Chief Justice

Petitions will be circulated tomorrow to obtain signatures to place the name of Louis W. Myers on the ballot, as a candidate for chief justice of the California Supreme Court at the primaries, August 26.

Justice Myers is at present filling this position made vacant by the resignation of Curtis D. Wilbur to accept the post of Secretary of the Navy.

Justice Myers was born in Lake Mills, Wis., September 6, 1872. After having graduated from Lake Mills High School, he entered the University of Wisconsin and was graduated therefrom in 1893, and from the law school of the same university in 1896. He spent a year in the law office of John C. Spooner and Alfred L. Sanborn, afterward United States judge for Wisconsin. Going to Chicago, he was associated in the practice of law for almost two years with Jesse A. Clark, now chief justice of Illinois for Cook county. Coming then to California, he engaged in the general practice of law at Los Angeles from 1898 to 1913. During this time he took an active part in local matters, serving as a member of the executive committee, and as vice-president of the Municipal League.

SEA LIONS DESTROYED BY FISHERIES PATROL
 VANCOUVER (B. C.), June 21.—Approximately 2500 sea lions were killed during the last three weeks by the fisheries patrol boat Givichy. This boat left here three weeks ago with machine guns and rifles to clean up the sea lions on Pearl and Virgin rocks opposite the mouth of River Inlet, and returned today. Some of carcasses were recovered and the hides taken to experiment as to their suitability for some commercial purpose.

Last year the department cleaned out about 3000 of these fish destroyers.

ANCIENT MARINER SHOWN UP

Rare Bird Carrying Soul of Baker in Its Breast Returns to Ship en Route to Los Angeles

Purple gallinule are rare birds—we have Mr. Audubon's word for that. It's safe to say, therefore, that the specimen of this beautiful plumage brought in yesterday aboard the Panama-Pacific liner Manchuria is the first to ever reach California. That is strange, but listen to this:

Said gallinule, according to sailors of the Manchuria, carries in its breast the soul of one Cornelius Van Ree, baker on the liner, who dropped dead on board while the Manchuria was off the Cuban coast on the night of the 16th inst. Three hours later the gallinule, although a strictly land bird, flew down on the deck of the ship.

SOUL BEQUEATHED
 Superstition of the sea has it that when a sailor dies his soul goes to the body of a sea gull. Van Ree, a sea-going baker, thereby bequeathed his soul to the gallinule, frequenter of the Florida marinas.

The beautiful bird, of shining purple plumage, is identified from all other members of the rail family by its long, thin, and delicate bill—the colors being as distinct as those in our national emblem. The bird was landed on board the Manchuria by the captain, James K. Clarke, naturalist and engineer, who was a passenger. The bird was captured by Frank Yedro, the captain's boy. Two days later, when the Manchuria reached Panama, the bird was released ashore to show to his friends. Frank released the gallinule and it flew out of sight. At midnight that night, attracted by the lights of the ship, it returned to the Manchuria, three hours before the liner started for Los Angeles.

All of these facts, says the seaman of the Manchuria, bear out their statement that the bird carries the soul of the dead baker. Van Ree was buried at sea on the night of his death, the 27,000-ton craft being stopped while Capt. Valentine J. Green consigned the body to the sea.

The Manchuria brought 250 passengers from New York, Havana and other ports, and was carrying tourists en route to the Orient and the Canadian Rockies.

J. K. CLARKE ABOARD
 Notable among the list was James K. Clarke, noted structural engineer, who directed the steel construction on the Gatun locks of the Panama Canal. Mr. Clarke, also one of America's leading ornithologists and yachtsmen, is here with his family on their first visit to California.

Dr. Edgar H. Earl, surgeon of the Manchuria, while the ship was bearing the body of the dead baker, gave radio medical advice to the master of the Shipping Board tanker Inlay in response to a call for advice in the treatment of an appendicitis case aboard.

It was the fifth such case that Dr. Earl had handled by radio prescription during the voyage just completed by the Manchuria.

Woman Asserts Reputation

Sensational new developments in the suit for $100,000 damages brought by Anne Luther, film actress, against J. P. White, wealthy mining man and motion-picture producer, for alleged breach of contract, were brought to light yesterday with the opening of depositions of persons prominent in the film world and whose testimony was taken at the request of Miss Luther.

Miss Luther, known in private life as the wife of Ed Gallagher of the vaudeville team of Gallagher and Sheen, is suing White on the ground that he failed to keep the terms of an asserted contract, whereby, she said, he had agreed to spend $100,000 on productions featuring her.

He has asked for the recovery of $10,000, he said he had advanced her a loan of $10,000, her character and reputation to him.

OPEN DEPOSITIONS
The depositions in the unusual case which were opened yesterday are those of Mrs. Mable Condon Birdwell, of 3454 Reschwood Drive, Hollywood, operator of the Mable Condon Film Exchange, and a general manager of the Balboa Amusement Producing Company.

In her deposition, Mrs. Birdwell said she had come into contact with virtually everyone of prominence in the motion-picture business, and testified that she had known Anne Luther for ten years and that Miss Luther enjoyed an excellent personal and professional reputation. Miss Luther, she said, had the reputation of being a hard and conscientious worker.

DESCRIBES MEETING
The witness then described at length a meeting with Miss Luther at which she said White was present.

"Do you know White, the defendant of this action?" she was asked.
"Yes," she replied, "I first met him at Miss Luther's apartment in the Ambassador hotel, after her arrival in Los Angeles from New York." (That was in June, 1923.)

considered the following people to be placed through their office:
"Mabel Normand?"
"Yes."
"Pearl White?"
"Yes."
"Ressie Arbuckle?"
"Well, not now, when it seems the public does not want him."
"How about Juanita Hansen?"
"You mean as to June, 1923?"
"Yes, I would have placed her."

MIGHT MAKE MONEY
Mrs. Birdwell said she would have considered placing Miss Hansen, former Los Angeles high-school girl, in some picture like Mrs. Wallace Reid's "Human Wreckage." This picture was produced shortly after Wallace Reid's death and after Miss Hansen's arrest in New York on a narcotic charge.

"How about Edna Purviance?" asked Attorney Maltman.
"Mae Busch?"
"Yes."

And so the questioning continued until Mrs. Birdwell's husband, who was present at the taking of the deposition, objected to the line of questioning on the ground that such testimony might be construed as "malicious gossip."

Horkheimer, who was called as a witness for Miss Luther, testified he first met the actress in 1916 in the lobby or grill of the Alexandria. Miss Luther had previously been questioned by White's attorneys as to her alleged relations with Horkheimer, but she denied that anything improper ever had occurred between them.

Horkheimer said he and Miss Luther were merely casual acquaintances, that they had met about twenty times in the eight years they had known each other, and then all that ever occurred was an exchange of greetings or a formal remark of address.

Horkheimer testified he met White but recently. A friend of his, whose card he identified as that of Lord Auckland, reputed British peer, also called upon him, he said.

TO TELL TRUTH
"He came to me and wanted to know if I would be on their side," Horkheimer testified. "I said, 'I am going to tell the truth and I would not tell anything else, as I would be going to jail under the law.'"

Later, the witness continued, he met White and Auckland in the lobby of the Ambassador hotel, and invited him to lunch with them, he said.

"I talked with them about an hour," Horkheimer stated, "I told them I did not know anything about Miss Luther and I thought it was a shame I should get my name in the papers in connection with the case. And he told me a lot of stuff that they had on Miss Luther and that they were going to have her arrested for blackmail and were going to do this and that. And I said, 'That is nothing to me. I don't care if you put the whole town in jail so far as I am concerned.'"

The pair told him, the witness said, that they had decided "she (Miss Luther) would not be a good-baying proposition."

Miss Luther last night denied reports circulated yesterday afternoon that she would go to San Francisco or anywhere else in an effort to avoid publicity in connection with her suit against White.

"I'll stay here and fight the thing to a finish," she declared. "I'm not afraid of anybody who has anything to do with it."

CHIEFS MEET ON CAMPAIGN
with Mr. Butler, Charles B. Warren, Ambassador to Mexico, and chairman of the resolution committee of the national convention, and Charles D. Hille, national committeeman from New York.

The afternoon session of the conference was held aboard the Mayflower, the Presidential yacht, on a short cruise down the Potomac.

FAILS IN RUN FOR LIBERTY, TRIES TO DIE
Bad-Check Suspect Placed in Dungeon After Dash Slashes Wrist

After falling in a spectacular dash for freedom in the County Jail yesterday, C. H. Hoffstadt, charged with passing worthless checks and with escaping from the Pasadena City Jail, slashed his wrists with a razor, but was overpowered before he was severely injured.

Hoffstadt made his dash for liberty as guards were escorting him through a hallway of the jail annex. He made for an unbarred window and was half-way outside before the guards could haul him back.

As punishment for his dash for liberty, Hoffstadt was ordered into the punishment dungeon for a month. Addressed to his wife, Mrs. Lella Hoffstadt of 2754 Cordvale avenue, here, a postscript for the jailers: "Please let me see my wife and babies before I die." The note itself implored the mother to keep from the children the fact that their father had been in jail.

A hastily written note was found on the floor of the dungeon where Hoffstadt made the suicidal attempt. Addressed to his wife, Mrs. Lella Hoffstadt of 2754 Cordvale avenue, here, a postscript for the jailers: "Please let me see my wife and babies before I die." The note itself implored the mother to keep from the children the fact that their father had been in jail.

WAIT SHORT TIME
Others in attendance at that time included Secretaries Hughes, Hoover and Davis; Senator Brandegee of Connecticut; Representative Burton of Ohio, who delivered the keynote address of the national convention; J. H. Rorabach, national committeeman from Connecticut; W. N. Glover, Third Assistant Postmaster-General, and James B. Reynolds, Washington and Massachusetts.

Actual opening of the campaign will await conclusion of the Democratic National Convention, which opens Tuesday. Meanwhile, Mr. Dawes will come to Washington, at which time policies and the program will be drafted more definitely.

Among the pending questions is the selection of the advisory committee to the national committee. Mr. Coolidge has indicated it will be chosen jointly by the national committee and himself and that its duties will be prescribed by the national chairman and the national committee.

TROUBLE IRONED OUT
Mr. Butler today declined to comment on the advisory committee. It is generally conceded, however, that the differences arising among party leaders at the Cleveland convention have been ironed out. Mr. Slomp will return next week to resume his duties as secretary of the President after a visit to the sick bed of a cousin at Cincinnati.

RETURNS FOR BOYS
Soon after a six-day trip to the Mayflower returned to Washington for the two Coolidge boys to go aboard, while several of the guests departed. The yacht then put out for the run down the Potomac.

Among the guests who left the yacht was Mrs. A. T. Hart, Republican national committeewoman from Kentucky, who was one of those who left on the Mayflower this afternoon. Those remaining aboard were Mr. Butler, Mr. Hille, Ambassador Warren and Mr. Rorabach.

Mr. Warren plans to leave tomorrow for a short trip to Mexico City and he probably will leave the yacht tomorrow afternoon.

Gray Hair—Stop It!
Don't delay. When the first few gray hairs appear, restore their natural color, life and luster with Co-Lo, the amazing discovery made by Prof. John H. Austin, over 40 years a hair and scalp specialist.

Co-Lo is preferred by thousands because it is so dainty and easy to apply. It is a wonderful liquid—clear, odorless, greaseless; has no sediment and does not contain lead or sulphur.

Co-Lo cannot be detected like ordinary hair tonics and dyes. It will not wash or rub off, will not injure the hair or will not cause the hair to split or break off.

Co-Lo makes the hair lovely and beautiful—it restores the original color to gray and faded hair perfectly. Always a success.

Co-Lo for every natural shade of hair. Ask your druggist which shade you require—A5, for black and dark shades of brown; A7, for jet black hair; A8, for medium brown shades; A9, for light brown, red and auburn shades.

THIRD JAPANESE IS FOUND DEAD

Tokio Government Seeking
Facts in Dual Murder

Police Think Gamblers War
Brought Death to Two

Realty Broker's Body Torn
by Drop from Bridge

Search for the slayers of the two Japanese whose bullet-riddled bodies were found Friday near Point Firmin took a wider range yesterday with the finding of the mutilated body of a third Japanese beneath the Colorado-street bridge. Tago M. Igarashi, 51 years of age, of 417 1/2 North Los Angeles street, and Thomas Yoshioka, 42, of 647 1/2 North Spring street, the two men shot to death near Point Firmin, were slain as a result of a gamblers' war, in the opinion of the police.

Igarashi and Yoshioka were both known to be notorious gamblers, the former having a reputation, according to the police, being also a fighter and general "fixer" in trouble which has broken out often between Japanese and Chinese gamblers.

Igarashi and Yoshioka were both guests at a party Tuesday night attended by several Japanese gamblers of the city. It has been learned by Lieutenants Stevens and Condafer, who are working on the case in connection with a detail of officers of the Los Angeles Harbor division.

SEEN ALIVE WEDNESDAY
They were last seen alive during the early morning hours of Wednesday, and it is the opinion of the officers they were slain that day at Point Firmin.

The identification of Yoshioka was not made until late yesterday, when a detective of the Los Angeles police called at the undertaking parlor. Information has been furnished the police as to the slayers of the two men that may lead to early arrests.

The Japanese Foreign Office at Tokio has requested a full report on the deaths of Igarashi and Yoshioka. It was stated yesterday by K. Wakasugi, consul general here, "This report will be made. Mr. Wakasugi stated, just as soon as the police get more of the details surrounding the deaths of the two men."

WAS REALTY BROKER

The body of the Japanese whose mutilated and bruised body was found under the Colorado-street bridge in Pasadena was identified late yesterday as Frank C. Murayama, 47, a real estate broker of 115 North San Pedro street. According to the dead man's brother, Fred Murayama, who made the identification, the body was found in a large car trunk near the bridge. Murayama, who made the identification, was a partner in the business of the late man. It was stated that Murayama was worried about his finances. It may have been this worry that caused him to leap from the bridge, according to the brother.

Upon the theory, however, that Murayama's death may have some connection with the deaths of Igarashi and Yoshioka, the police are planning on joining with Detective Sergeant O'Rourke and Culver of the Pasadena police who are working on the case.

WORKERS FIND BODY

Murayama's body was found by S. Maddox and Joe Garcia, laborers employed by the city of Pasadena, who were working on the bridge. He jumped over the railing 130 feet above the bottom of the rocky gorge spanned by the bridge. The mutilated and bruised condition of the body when found was due to its passing through the branches of a large oak tree near which it was found, according to the police.

The death toll of the Colorado-street bridge was increased to nine with the finding yesterday of the body of the Japanese. Eight persons have since been availed themselves of its 130-foot drop to end their lives.

Seelye, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will personally be at the Rosslyn Hotel, and will remain in Los Angeles Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day. Mr. Seelye says: "Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over the old-fashioned truss—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or pressure no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or trussing under straps (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Warning—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web trussing under straps, as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. Mr. Seelye has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. He will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fee if desired. GOLF STAR WOUNDED IN DEBT FIGHT
Willie Leith, Denver 'Pro' Shot by Advertising Man; Condition is Serious

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
DENVER, June 21.—Willie Leith, proprietor of a golfing school here, and widely known professional golfer, was shot through the mouth and dangerously wounded late this afternoon during a quarrel with John R. Morgan, one of the proprietors of an advertising agency.

The shooting occurred in Morgan's office. Leith was taken to the General Hospital, and Morgan was taken to the City Jail for questioning.

According to E. J. Fleischauer, partner of Morgan in an advertising service, Morgan had been looking for Leith all day to collect a bill. About 4 o'clock this afternoon Leith called the advertising company on the telephone and inquired for Morgan, who was out of the office. A few minutes after the call Morgan returned to the office.

Leith arrived a few minutes after Morgan, according to Fleischauer, entered the office, removed his coat and started swearing and threatening Morgan. Morgan then, according to Fleischauer, who witnessed the shooting, remonstrated with Leith, who continued to abuse him. Morgan then picked up a gun which was lying on his desk and attempted to shoot Leith. The man grappled and the gun was discharged.

According to detectives who investigated the shooting, Leith had been drinking. Morgan declared the shooting was accidental. Leith came here from Texas. Local golfers say.

Edison Company Loses Suit in Fresno Courts

FRESNO, June 21.—Twelve thousand dollars damages was awarded yesterday by a jury in Superior Judge D. A. Cashin's court to Edith Blachoff and her husband, Henry L. Blachoff, from the Southern California Edison Company for injuries received in an accident on the Huntington Lake Road June 23 last.

Mr. and Mrs. Blachoff were riding on the rear of a lumber wagon bound upstate at the time of the accident. The driver of a Southern California Edison Company truck attempted to pass the wagon in a narrow place.

The case occupied the attention of the court two days. The jury retired about 3 o'clock this afternoon and returned with its verdict within an hour.

The case was contested in court by Gearhart, Curlling & Cummings for the plaintiffs and Gallagher, Simpson & Hays for the defense.

NEW DAM PROJECT TO COST MILLIONS

MEXICO

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NOGALES (Ariz.) June 21.—Contract for the construction of a great hydroelectric project for development of waste land in the State of Sonora, Mex., virtually has been closed between the government and American and Mexican capitalists. It was announced here today by Sol Grosbard, a New York engineer. Building of the project will involve expenditure of several millions of dollars.

Surveys have revealed sufficient water supply for 300,000 acres of virgin land bordering the Colorado river. Under a hydroelectric contract, two dams are to be built on the Colorado river on the San Miguel River and the other about fifteen miles from Hermosillo on the Rio Sonora.

Engineers will go to Hermosillo within a few weeks to draw up working plans, according to Mr. Grosbard.

ST. LOUIS HAILS TICKET CHOICE

Chiefs See Coolidge-Dawes as Splendid Team
Opposite Types Held to be Selected Wisely

Vice-Presidential Aspirant Adds Needed "Pep"

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ST. LOUIS, June 21.—Nomination of Calvin Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes as the standard-bearers of the Republican party for the forthcoming campaign has been greeted with unqualified expressions of jubilation and satisfaction in many quarters here.

It is the opinion that the combination is a most happy one. Coolidge combining the qualities of dignity, caution, reserve and the necessary for the high office of President, and "Hell Maria" Dawes supplying a dash of pep as well as sound business judgment needed for a vigorous campaign.

INSPIRING INFLUENCE
Herbert S. Hadley, Chancellor of Washington University, former Governor of Missouri, whose name was mentioned during the convention as one of the logical candidates, characterized Dawes as an inspiring influence in the forthcoming campaign.

"I feel that the nomination of Dawes makes the ticket especially strong and a well-balanced one," he said. "It is strong at both ends. The popularity of President Coolidge, as demonstrated by the results of the primary, is further emphasized. I know Dawes, and in addition to his own qualities of statesmanlike ability, he has the human quality which will make him an effective campaigner and an inspiring influence in the campaign."

Edwards Whitaker, president of the Boatmen's Bank, declared the ticket the best that could have been selected. "Dawes is a happy choice over Lowden, whose experience of four years ago, would have made him a handicap to the ticket," said Whitaker.

KNOWS PROBLEMS
"Dawes is the man I first considered as the most logical man for the Vice-Presidential position. His broad knowledge of world problems. His splendid work on the Reparations Commission, his world recognition as a man of very high caliber."

"I should like to predict the election of Coolidge and Dawes for I am sure the intelligent, thinking people of the United States will endorse this most desirable combination."

Breckinridge Jones, president of the Mississippi Valley National Bank, is a Democrat, but he expressed the belief that the Republicans made a wise choice. He said: "At the head of the ticket there is Coolidge—reserved and cautious. With him is Dawes—a red-blooded, fighting soldier with a great record."

W. H. Danforth, president of the Ralston Fertilizer Company, and he is delighted over the nomination. "If the Republicans had searched the country over, they could not have found a better ticket," he declared.

RAIL GATES BROKEN BY DARING AUTOISTS

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
PASADENA, June 21.—As fast as Santa Fe Railroad carpenters could repair crossing gates on East Colorado street, daring motorists would smash them in, according to the flagman in charge. Three times today, motorists took their lives in their hands and endeavored to beat the train to the crossing, he said. Each time one of the gates lowered to halt traffic was completely demolished. A heavily laden truck was the first to make the attempt. It was followed by a touring car bearing an Iowa license plate. Although the car managed to get across the tracks, it barely missed colliding with a passenger train.

MEXICALI "OPEN" FOR CELEBRATION

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MEXICALI, June 21.—Gov. Abelardo Rodriguez of the Northern District of Lower California has let it be known that saloons and cafes selling liquor in the town will be closed for the few days prior to the national election. It was first reported. After a conference with Chamber of Commerce officials, the Governor announced that the general order closing saloons and liquor-selling places at the time of the election will not apply to Lower California towns, but is intended only for the larger cities of Mexico. This means that Mexicali will entertain the crowd on July 4.

HOSPITAL PATIENT IN COURT

Injured Man Leaves Bed to Plead Guilty to Charge of Reckless Driving

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
ORANGE, June 21.—Dismissing any reference to a flask, containing alleged liquor, which police say was found in his machine when it figured in a spectacular triple crash on North Glassell street two nights ago, a complaint charging reckless driving had been filed today against C. O. Hildebrand, part owner of the Buick Bee confectionery store, at Corona.

Swathed in bandages, which concealed numerous cuts and abrasions about the face, together with a compound fracture of the clavicle, sustained in the accident, Hildebrand appeared before Justice G. W. Ingie this morning, where he pleaded guilty to the charge.

The court imposed a $250 fine and a ninety-day suspension of his license. Immediately after the hearing, Hildebrand was escorted back to the County Hospital where he is being treated for his injuries.

Meanwhile, in a Santa Ana hospital, where he was taken, J. H. Miller, also Corona, Hildebrand's companion, today was minus his right hand which was so fearfully crushed it had to be amputated. The pair, riding in a taxicab, plowed into half a dozen cars, causing a pile-up of several vehicles.

Beet Sugar Company Comes to Rescue in Time
Private Wells Supply Mains of City Plant

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
OXNARD, June 21.—Were it not for the American Beet Sugar Company Oxnard would be without water today. What had been feared for many months occurred when the water level in city wells fell to such a depth that the pumps could not lift it. When the pumps failed the city was without water.

Superintendent Walker of the city waterworks, communicated with the American Beet Sugar Company's local factory, where J. W. Rooney, his assistant, who is also a member of the Board of City Trustees, in less than two hours the factory was pumping water from two of its twenty-eight wells into the city.

The sugar factory officials prepared for such an emergency some time ago and when the time came the task of connecting up the factory wells with the city mains was easily accomplished.

Adding excitement to the situation, twenty men, at work on the city's reservoir, falling over the edge of the reservoir, in the water pumping plant. A truck driver leaving the yard after dumping a load of crushed rock forgot to lower the bed of the truck. The bed struck a guy wire from the smoke stack, mapping the post to which it was attached at the base. The force against the wire and its breaking caused the chimney to sway, breaking another guy wire. It was feared that the strain on the other wires would cause them to break and the chimney would fall. Had it fallen it would have landed in the midst of the twenty men working on the reservoir, but a stiff breeze blowing in the right direction acted as a support for the chimney.

Group of Italians Fail to Make Good Entrance Here Over Mexican Border

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
EL CENTRO, June 21.—Angelo Zaula of Arcadia was arrested here on a Federal warrant charging him with smuggling five of his Italian countrymen into this country from Mexico. The five men also held for probable deportation. The capture was made at the international border by Frank E. Galt, inspector of the United States immigration service.

The Arcadia man has been taken to Los Angeles for hearing. The five men asserted to have been smuggled into the country from Mexico. They were all dressed in the civilian clothing of their native province and were easily identified as strangers in the valley. All of the men have refused to discuss their difficulties and Zaula denied he was guilty of smuggling. The average age of the smuggled Italians is 25 years.

State Federation Writes Coolidge Asking Agent be Reinstated; Exclusion Act Regretted

A letter to President Coolidge requesting the reinstatement of H. H. Dolley to his former position as agent in charge of the field forces of prohibition enforcement officials in California was dispatched yesterday by the California State Federation of Labor.

The letter called on the President and all government officials to uphold the hands of officers who are trying to enforce the laws, including the laws dealing with the eighth amendment.

Deploing the reports of the thent violent at Los Angeles harbor, the fifty delegates to the convention adopted a resolution calling on the District Attorney and other officials to make a thorough investigation of the case and to prosecute those found guilty of conspiring with peace and order.

The federation delegates also passed a resolution "regretting the action of Congress in passing the Alien Exclusion Act, and stating that the Christian councils of Japan and China will be appalled by the federation that the action of Congress does not represent the sentiment of the majority of the people of America."

A resolution favoring the reading of the Bible in public schools also was adopted.

tennis delegation to the Olympic games, also will play at Wimbledon. They are R. Norris Williams, 2nd, and Watson Washburn, 30, who will be the American international champion, Carl H. Fisher of Philadelphia.

ALL-AMERICAN
Again this year there is a possibility, perhaps a probability, of there being all-American finals. For the first time since the Wimbledon championships were instituted, the draw has been seeded, twelve nations nominating players for this purpose. Altogether forty names of the 164 were seeded in the draw, the placing of the others being left to luck. Thus the chance of two star players from the same country meeting each other early in the tournament has been obviated. The change is considered a happy one financially and otherwise.

Capacity crowds in the stadium every day for this year's tournament, with thousands of others overflowing into the outside stands around the string of auxiliary courts, already seen assured. The reserved seats were all booked long in advance and the newspapers are now printing columns of advertisements of people offering $20 to $30 and more for a couple of seats for the fortnight of play.

EASY HALT
Miss Willis will have an easier row to hoe toward the finals than Miss Lengien. In the lower half the French idol has Mrs. Covell and Miss Ryan to contend with in her own quarter, and either Miss McKane or Mrs. Mollie Mallory, her old rival, in all probability in the other quarter. There is likelihood of Mrs. Mallory meeting Miss McKane in the second round.

Miss Willis, on the other hand, would seem, on the records of the players concerned, to have less difficult opposition ahead of her. Her first round match will be with Miss Lillian Scherman, and the only other impressive names in the first half are Mrs. Eastman and Mrs. Gosse.

Miss Gosse meets Mrs. Satterthwaite in the first round. There will be eight American women in the tournament.

The upset was in the women's singles when Mrs. Golda M. Gross of Berkeley, defeated Mrs. Raam Leachman of Vallejo, ranking player of great tournament experience.

ROYLAKE (Eng.) June 21.—The annual attempt of American golfers to lift the British open championship assumed an exceedingly serious aspect today when, in the course of a practice round, Walter Hagen, who carried the coveted trophy overseas two years ago and missed doing it again last summer by only one stroke, went around the Royal Liverpool Club course in 68, twelve holes of this practice round were played in a steady downpour of rain.
Gene Sarazen, American professional champion, went out later in the day after a long practice session by himself off one end of the course. His practice round resulted in a card of very nearly even four, as did also that of McDougal Smith, the California star.

Wallace Scott Collapses on Quaker City Courts and is Forced to Default

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—After leading Wallace Johnson of Philadelphia, the present champion, two sets to one, in the final round of the Middle-States tennis championship at the Philadelphia Cricket Club today, Wallace Scott, University of Washington star, collapsed from the heat and defaulted to Johnson, giving him the title for the fifth time.

Scott was taken to a hospital, but was discharged an hour and a half later. Scott lost the first set, 6-3, but took the second and third, 13-11, 6-4 by brilliant playing. At the intermission he staggered to the locker-room and collapsed. A physician ordered him not to continue the match, but he insisted he would be able to play after a rest. After a delay of ten minutes, however, he was pronounced to default and was taken to the hospital.

Today was the warmest Philadelphia has experienced this year. The temperature reached 90 in the shade and the heat on the tennis courts was intense. Scott and his partner, Bruce Hewitt, also defaulted in the doubles.

EVERY fisher and hunter in the State of California, every man and woman interested in saving the salmon and trout for the present and for future generations, every person who believes in keeping a part, at least, of our great outdoors from ruin and destruction, should rally solidly to the support of the movement to save the Klamath River from Shasta to the sea as a permanent fish and game preserve. There is every reason in the world to keep this splendid natural area for salmon, trout, deer, grouse and for the benefit of our children and our children's children, safe from any commercial inroads which would destroy the river and the game which it supports. State-wide importance to our citizenship.

Other States have just awakened to the seriously short-sighted policy which has drained lakes and built impassable dams on their rivers, destroying the breeding places of wild fowl, exterminating the fish, and obliterating the recreation grounds of hundreds of thousands of outdoor lovers. It is too late. It is the last spawning time by the forelock, and save the Klamath River country before it is too late. It is the last spawning time by the forelock, and save the Klamath River country before it is too late. It is the last spawning time by the forelock, and save the Klamath River country before it is too late.

Millions of magnificent Klamath rainbow trout are collected by the Fish and Game Commission. This river and this region is the very core of all of our trout propagation. Not to make it a preserve, to allow it to be contaminated by refuse, or sealed up by impassable dams would be to deal a death blow to the Klamath trout. It is unthinkable! Natural propagation has been killed in all other California rivers by barring the river headwaters, both as to salmon and the best trout streams. To allow the Klamath to follow their fate would be to sound the knell for trout and salmon propagation, practically, and cripple the Fish and Game Commission beyond all power of recuperation.

On the western plains the buffalo were ruthlessly slaughtered until now only a remnant remains of "run" from becoming a thing of the past.

Dundee did some of his best fishing around Los Angeles in the old days of the twenty-round game although he was unable to win any championship until he had been battling around for more than a dozen years. He was always regarded as a terror but was too heavy to get under the featherweight limit and much too light to do any good with the lightweights of the time. Johnny got famous through the creation of the new "Junior lightweight" class with a weight limit of 130 pounds, and won the title for many years.

Dundee battled Johnny Kilbane a couple of times out at the old Vernon arena and gave the featherweight champion the battle of his young life. He was a holy terror in twenty rounds, getting better as the rounds rolled by and always forcing matters with his peculiar kangaroo tactics. He never learned to hit, however, and was only able to pile up points by his aggressiveness and speed. Criqui was the only man of any ability to be knocked out by Dundee and he really collapsed.

Dundee is an Italian and was given his nom de guerre by Scotty Monaghan, who was his manager for many years. During the course of their partnership Dundee amassed a fortune and bought a string of race horses which brought him additional fame and money for some time. Johnny looks sure to drop his featherweight title this summer and Joe Lynch, the former bag-

AMERICANS ARE PICKED TO WIN

Athletic Expert Likes Our Chances Best

Regards Olympic Team Very Well Balanced

Declares Lads Are Fighters of First Water

BY WALTER ECKENBAIL (REUTERS DESPATCH)
CHICAGO, June 21.—That America should again win the track and field competition of the Olympic Games in France, next month was shown by the sparkling performance of the final trials for the Yankee team held recently in the Harvard stadium.

While our team will be weak in some events, the javelin throw particularly, and may not fare so well in some of the longer runs, close followers of the glider-path artists expect our athletes to pick up enough points in certain events to make up for those lost in others.

The American team is unquestionably a much better balanced aggregation than that of any other nation, while the points should be split up in such fashion as to return our team a victory by a comfortable margin. As six places will count in each event, our coaches know only too well that points awarded for fifth or sixth positions are just as essential as the ten which will go to the winner of each contest.

CAST IT ASIDE
In all probability the American crutches will concentrate on certain events in which our athletes have shown the better performance. The contestants will be so placed in each event that the best results can be obtained in the point column. Personal pride will be cast aside for a common cause, that of winning the honors in the track and field competition of the world's games.

While most of the athletes performed true to form in the final tests, allowances must be made for unexpected accidents which may overtake the team on its long journey. Contrary to the usual custom, each nation has been permitted to enter four athletes and start as many in each event. No provision is made for an athlete taking ill at the last moment. Under such conditions, no substitutions will be permitted and in such a case only three performers of each nation will be permitted to start.

WEAKEN TEAM
While our team will be weakened by the unexpected withdrawal of Plant and Pearson, our best walkers, the recent trials showed we will be better in the shot put than in the last Olympics. Hunter, Hartranft, Norman Anderson, Ellis, Eastman and Liveridge did remarkably well in tossing the ball.

CASEY VS. KRUG
It was Casey's turn to incur the Angela's wrath yesterday. Casey called a strike on a Seraph batter when Mary Krug thought was a ball and promptly told "his son" so. Just as Casey was all there in the last Krug out of the game, Mary caught his vocal tactics from those in vogue among parrots to those largely used by clams.

SERAPHS HALT LOSING HABIT
Krugmen Beat Tigers After Dropping Four
Elmer Myers Twirls Angels to 6 to 2 Win
Jimmy Christian Routed in Eighth Inning

It's a lengthy losing streak that has no ending. After dropping four straight to Bill Easok's Tigers, the Angels snapped out of it long enough to get out of their losing habit and slipped the Vernon players a little of their medicine, banging a 6-to-2 defeat on Vernon.

For seven innings "Uncle Ben" Myers and Jimmy Christian engaged in a daisy cutting duel, but the Tiger youngster cracked in the seventh and to the right wide open in the eighth, when Easok lifted him to let Alva Sellers go in and retire the best fly chaser in the game. Jimmy Christian's runs chiefly because of some wildness.

In the meantime, "Uncle Ben" called merrily along, holding the Bengals helpless after the fifth. Vernon got but six hits off Myers, all of them coming in the third, fourth and fifth frames.

SHIFTS LINE-UP
Manager Krug once more shifted his line-up and the latest one seems to be about as good as any. Cedric Durrst was given a chance at first, while Bill Whaley will hold down center field. Durrst looked pretty good around the initial sack, fielding everything that came his way.

Chet Chadbourne turned in a great catch in the first inning when he ran far to the right and snagged Twombly's line drive which looked good for a triple. Chadbourne is the best fly chaser in the loop, but he makes hard chances look so easy that he seldom gets much credit from the fans for the catches he makes. Bill Whaley also made a good catch of Deal's wallop in the eighth, catching the ball while running toward the fence. Another good fielding event must be credited to Jack Warner, who made an almost impossible stop of Jacobs' chugging ball in the eighth, snugging the ball back-handed and had to turn around to throw to first. He he snugged the ball in deep short and the throw failed to nip Jacobs, who was credited with an infield single.

SALVADORE IN VERNON STAR BOUT

Phil Squares Off Tuesday Night With Farren; Datto Tackles Carter

Phil Salvatore and Frankie Farren square off Tuesday night, and with the supporting card arranged by Matchmaker Hayden Wadhams, it is certain that few more attractive programs have been staged for the Vernon battle ground in recent months.

Salvatore is making his first start in several months and while most of the talent is giving him the edge in his opening battle, yet there are plenty of fans who believe that Farren will make Dick Donald's Italian star step faster than he has been forced for a long time. It is a tough assignment for Salvatore and he is working hard to be ready.

A glove-slinging combat of more than ordinary interest is in prospect in the semi-wind-up, that shows Young Datto with Tommy Carter. Datto is one of Johnny Sampson's stable of Filipino brawlers, and by stopping Carter, he will be a couple of rounds recently, he accomplished something that Joe Benjamin, Johnny O'Donnell and a lot of other main event lightweights were unable to do. Carter won fame by dropping Johnny Carlson for a ten-count in a single round. With these two punches in action, don't be surprised if they steal the show.

Nick Newman, Kansas City midweight, returns to action against Fred Sullivan, heavyweight. Newman looked fairly good in his first two starts at Vernon and may make the big difference under a right-hand punch. Nick carries lots of weight in his short right hand, but has not yet been able to bring it into action in local fights.

Don Williams, the Palmdale fighter, returns to the ring against the Tazewell, who was the winner of the Vernon bout. Williams is a tough fighter and is expected to give the Tazewell a hard time.

The Vernon bout is expected to be a close one, and the fans are expected to see a good show.

In the trials and America should win the first three places at least. Our pole vaulters also did well in the trials. The fact that five vaulters, Sparrow, Barnes, Brock, and Graham and Myers cleared 15 ft. on a rainy day is sufficient proof they will win points in their specialty. Vaulting under such conditions is extremely difficult. In the jumps, we are well for the time being. The same is true of the discus. The American team of the Illinois A. C. made two beautiful throws in the trials. Harold O'Brien is a strong contender in the decathlon and Bob Lengendre of the New York A.C. should figure in the pentathlon.

Despite the fact that Charles Padgett of the University of Missouri, a few years ago, makes up for Padgett's setbacks, although Charles will be much better on the other side than he was at Cambridge. Then there is Bowman, Hussey, Hill, Murchison, Leoney and Norcross. Phenomenal sprinting of

Jackson Scholz of the New York A.C. who broke into prominence at the University of Missouri, a few years ago, makes up for Padgett's setbacks, although Charles will be much better on the other side than he was at Cambridge. Then there is Bowman, Hussey, Hill, Murchison, Leoney and Norcross. Phenomenal sprinting of event in close to Olympic record line or better. In the 400-meters, the American representatives should be among the majority of the place winners and the same is true of the 800-meter event, while Ray Buker of the Illinois A.C. should come close to winning the 1500-meter event. Jole Ray of the Illinois A.C. should be right up near the finish of the 3000-meter event and the same of John Romig of Penn State in the 5000-meter event.

In the remaining long-distance runs, there is a big question. Remarkable running of some of the Finlanders entitled them to consideration not only in the long runs but they should be contenders in a number of the shorter events. In fact Finland is expected to be runner-up to the United States as all indications point to a struggle for team honors between these two teams. America should score heavily in the 110-meter hurdles and in the 400-meter barrier event. Our timber toppers have made much better time in both events than representatives of other nations and unless unexpected accidents overtake the hurdlers, they should contribute their quota of points to the American total. All things considered, it is one of the strongest teams which ever represented America in the track and field competition of the world's games. The boys are fighters of the first water and they know only too well how much depends upon them. They realize the eyes of the American people will be focused upon them and they will leave nothing undone to uphold the honor which former American teams have won in Olympic Games.

SOUTHLAND SUMMERS WIN FRIEND

Booklet of All Year Club Leads Tourist to Pacific Instead of Atlantic

How Southern California wins friends for its summer climate through those who have known the joy of Southern California summers is clearly illustrated by the following letter, which has just come to the All Year Club of Southern California:

5402 Barter avenue, St. Louis, Mo., June 12, 1924.

All Year Club of Southern California, 2601 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles, Cal.

Gentlemen:

I want to acknowledge receipt of your booklet, "Southern California All the Year," and to thank you for your prompt reply to my request for it.

I did not want the book for myself as this will be the first summer for nine years that I have not spent in Southern California, usually in Newport or Laguna Beach. I did want, though, something along the line of your booklet to show around to various friends who are going to Southern California this summer, or contemplating a trip there in the near future. It may interest you to know that one person, who had planned for a summer in the Cape Cod country, was persuaded to go to Southern California instead, and now is motoring out there with Santa Barbara as the destination after a short stay in Los Angeles.

Thanking you again for your attractive booklet, I am,

Yours very truly,

JOHN C. CUMMINGS.

SUMMER SEMESTER Hollywood Military Academy Sets Opening Date

The summer session of the Hollywood Military Academy will start July 1 and will continue until the autumn semester. It was announced yesterday. Commencement exercises were conducted Friday.

Although the school was opened only last September, it had an enrollment of fifty-one pupils at the end of the term, according to H. A. Blackwell, president.

NEW MAIN LINE FOR CALIFORNIA

Coups of Southern Pacific Changes Rail Map

New Crossing of Colorado is Contemplated

Intricate System of Arizona Roads Strengthens Merger

That the Southern Pacific is planning a new routing of its main line into California, with crossing of the Colorado River at a point thirty or more miles north of Yuma, is indicated by the reading of the agreement lately made with the El Paso and Southwestern system for the building of a new main line through Phoenix, to rejoin the present main line "at a point between Colton (near Yuma), Arizona, and Indio, Cal., to be determined by physical conditions."

To join the southern line at any point east of Yuma will involve the construction of a bridge across the Gila River of greater length and of at least equal cost, one that might be built across the Colorado at a narrow point, such as Cocopah Bend, while the route via Phoenix would be about forty-two miles longer than the present line.

TO SHORTEN ROUTE

Yuma in latitude is just about forty miles south of Hasmampala, the present end of the Arizona Eastern (a Southern Pacific subsidiary), which has built thirty-nine miles west of Phoenix, while Indio by latitude is about seventy miles north of Yuma, from which by rail it is distant 132 miles. Engineers familiar with the desert of Yuma and Imperial counties have stated that the crossing of the Colorado at a point between Colton and Indio would be a saving of seventy or more miles by coming through Phoenix. Also there would be eliminated three heavy grade points, as well as danger from any rise of Salton Sea.

Statement was made by one of the principals to the railroad coalition that the first work probably will be toward a crossing of the Gila at Colton, forty miles east of Yuma, but that this will be a temporary arrangement. Building through to a point near Indio will be left for the future, as it might take several years to finish. Its value as a short cut of low gradients is appreciated.

EXPENDITURE LARGE

The Southern Pacific has spent about $5,000,000 at Yuma during the past year, mainly in building a new bridge, avoiding the possibility of losing the crossing through underscoring by the current at the present structure.

By the combination with the El Paso and Southwestern system more than 1300 miles of operating trackage will be added to the Southern Pacific lines, with the result after will have no competition in Southern Arizona. The additional mileage will need no conditioning for both track and equipment are of main-line standard, with heavy rails, and with motive power and rolling stock as good as could be bought. Backed by liberal policies and ample capital of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation, the Southwestern, since its initiation, (Continued on Page 3, Column 3)

Collection of A. Burlingame Johnson Unrivaled

Chinese Mon's Treasures in Exposition Museum

Chinese Ceramics Come to Los Angeles

THE BURLINGAME JOHNSON collection of Chinese porcelain, which is the largest publicly exhibited collection of old Chinese porcelain in this country which now is shown permanently at the Exposition Museum.

To lovers of this ancient art, Los Angeles, there is a source of study such as is not to be found elsewhere. The collection, consisting of over 400 pieces, was made by the late A. Burlingame Johnson, a prominent Los Angeles businessman and a member of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The collection is being loaned to the Exposition Museum for the purpose of exhibiting it to the public. It is a collection of the finest Chinese porcelain ever made, and is a treasure of the highest order.

OPERA FOR OPENING OF WESTLAKE

Thrilling Spectacle of Wagnerian Drama Planned; Music for Week

A thrilling combination of Wagnerian music and pyrotechnics depicting the death scene from "Gotterdammerung" will feature the opening of the season at Westlake Park, starting Tuesday night.

The "Battle Cry" will be sung from a burning boat moored in the lake.

The thunderstorm and stirring "Fire Song," in which Brunhilda sings her battle cry and rides into the flaming pyre, will bring the program to a climax. Anna Hiner, soprano, will take the part of Brunhilda in the opening night. Hiner's band will play an especially arranged musical score throughout the evening.

The program for the remaining six evenings will be varied to suit all musical tastes. Among the selections on other evenings will be such songs as "By the Waters of Minnetonka" and "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water." For those who enjoy popular air, jazz and dreamy love songs, a complete selection of those varieties will be given.

During the opening week there will be concerts daily at 7:30 p.m. and during the evening the Brunhilda "Death Song" spectacle will be presented.

Decorators have completed the refurbishing of the Italian pavilion and cafe. A Roman fountain, indoor furnishings and new color harmonies have been added. A specially designed mosaic floor has also been provided.

In order that a large number of persons may hear the music and view the spectacle, scores of latest type canoes have been provided and will be placed in service Tuesday evening.

Summer Rush to California Forests Is Started

The Lodge Camp Seeley

At Camp Seeley Swimming Pool

CAMPERS OPEN SEASON AT MUNICIPAL PLAYGROUND

First Detachment of Vacationists at City's Mountain Resort for Two Weeks

Vanguard of a host of thousands of Los Angeles residents who will spend their vacations at the Los Angeles municipal playground camps this summer, fifty happy-hearted campers loaded their rolls of blankets on the early San Bernardino train a week or so ago, en route to Camp Seeley, the first of the city camps to open for the summer.

For a week these fifty campers have been breathing the pine-scented air of the Angeles Forest Reserve, watching the sun rise from the other side of Grayback and set behind Old Baldy, viewing the San Bernardino Valley from such vantage points as only the city of Los Angeles can provide, and taking trips to Arrowhead Lake, Pine Crest and other resorts. For still another week they will remain at camp, hiking, swimming, playing out-door games and singing rollicking songs around the open fire in the evenings. Then, refreshed and rested, they will return to the routine of the city, giving place to another group, a little larger, which will enjoy similar privileges for the ensuing fortnight.

The remarkable part of all this is not that Los Angeles folk go to sue mountains—that is the accepted thing to do nowadays—but that this vacation is provided at such a cost that it is available to anyone who lives within the city limits.

ALL EXPENSES

An outing such as would cost much more than the average pocketbook could stand at the resorts which are run for profit may be taken in this way for $15.50 at Camp Seeley. This amazingly small sum actually covers all expenses, leaves a surplus to be put in the fund for camp improvement and includes transportation from Los Angeles, meals, lodging and all necessary expenses for the two weeks' stay.

This week the second of the playground camps, Camp Radford, located four miles from Big Bear Lake, will open, and a little later parties will begin going to the new camp in the high Sierras. As soon as school is out the latter part of this month, the groups will increase in size until, during July and August, Camp Radford and Camp Seeley will be filled to capacity, with 350 going to each camp every two weeks, and seventy-five campers, the largest number that can be accommodated at the high Sierras camp, setting out for each outing, that is scheduled.

CAMP FOR ADULTS

Contrary to the opinion held by so many who have heard of the playground camps only in a general way, there is a camp for adults.

ALL EXPENSES

An outing such as would cost much more than the average pocketbook could stand at the resorts which are run for profit may be taken in this way for $15.50 at Camp Seeley. This amazingly small sum actually covers all expenses, leaves a surplus to be put in the fund for camp improvement and includes transportation from Los Angeles, meals, lodging and all necessary expenses for the two weeks' stay.

AIRPLANES TO MANEUVER

First Annual Meet of Santa Barbara Aero Club at Las Turas Draws Aviators of State

Approximately 100 airplanes of every description and make will take part today in what will be one of the largest aerial meets ever staged in the State of California, when the Santa Barbara Aero Club holds its first annual air meet at the Las Turas Lake Club. Flyers from all parts of the State have announced their intention of entering the meet. All of them are flying their planes from their resident cities open to all aviators, and will be permanently maintained by the Las Turas Lake Club as a modern, fully equipped landing station.

The Santa Barbara club has begun an active campaign to establish a complete chain of permanent aero fields along a laid-out coast flying route, according to Earle Dingus, of Long Beach, who has been in correspondence with the club on behalf of the Commercial Aircraft Corporation.

PROGRAM IS FULL

Among the entrants for the meet are the Santa Barbara Aero Club, with ten planes, and the Commercial Aircraft Association with a full fleet of twenty-five planes, which includes two new five-passenger cabin planes. In addition to these many other associations and individuals are entering planes from as far south as San Diego and as far north as San Francisco, to compete in the various events which include aerial dead line.

TODAY'S WIBLE TEXT

THOU SHALT LOVE THE LORD thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself. This do and thou shalt live. —Luke 1:27-28.

They are Lloyd O. Champion, 14 years of age, Roy Quinn, 22, and Jack Theriot, 24. Champion was arrested some months ago together with six other youths after police had traced to them a long series of robberies in the University District. Champion and another youth were placed on probation.

COUNCIL OF DE MOLAY IS INSTALLED

Three National Officers Assist in Ceremony Held by Youths' Lodge

Three national officers of the Order of De Molay, a juvenile organization of international scope, which aims to begin where the Boy Scouts leave off, at the age of sixteen, assisted last night in the installation here of the Southwest Council, one of ninety-seven in the State of California.

They are Judge Alexander G. Cochran of St. Louis, formerly general counsel for the Gould interests, vice-president of the Missouri-Pacific Railroad and vice-president and a director in twenty-six other Gould corporations, who is Grand Master Councilor of the order; Frank S. Land of St. Louis, a former member of the Supreme Pyramid, Ancient Order of Scots, which has forty-three pyramids and a membership of 35,000 Masons in California. The Los Angeles pyramid yesterday elected Judge Cochran and Mr. Land as national officers.

The Order of De Molay was founded in April, 1919, by Frank S. Land, at the suggestion of a boy whom he had befriended in his capacity at that time of director of the Masonic Social Service Bureau of Kansas City. It now has a membership of 175,000, the Grand Marshal said yesterday at the Biltmore, with lodges in every State of the Union, Canada, Mexico, Panama, the Philippines, Portugal, Italy, France and Switzerland.

Local councils are under the guidance of advisory councils consisting of nine local Masons. Members do not qualify as such for membership in the Masonic order.

TWO SPEEDERS GIVEN SENTENCES IN JAIL

Two motorists lost their liberty for five days yesterday in Police Judge Crawford's drive to slow up drivers on the city streets to a rate below thirty-five miles an hour. They are Frank Ruffice and R. M. McCormick. Both were convicted of traveling thirty-five miles an hour, which Justice Crawford had set as the speed dead line.

'ON TO LONDON' LUNCH TUESDAY

Southland Advertising Clubs
Prepare for Send-off

Don Tyler, National Orator,
Principal Speaker

Party Leaves Next Day to Boost City on Way

"On to London" is the slogan of the mammoth meeting of the Advertising Clubs of Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pasadena and Santa Ana in the ballroom of the Biltmore, Tuesday noon, the 24th inst. The meeting will be a farewell banquet to the delegates from these clubs that are going to attend the international convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World in London next month.

Talks by Don Tyler, high-school teacher of national fame, and the mayors of Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pasadena and Santa Ana, and music by the Lincoln High School Band will feature the meeting.

The delegates leave Los Angeles Wednesday, the 25th inst., on a special train for New York City where they meet the delegates from other cities of America. They sail July 3 on chartered ships for London, arriving there in time for the convention, July 13-15.

TYLER TO SPEAK
Don Tyler, who won the first prize of $2500 in the National Oratorical Contest, will be the principal speaker at the farewell meeting.

The mayors of Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pasadena and Santa Ana will send-off speeches to the delegates from these clubs on the way to London.

Wednesday morning a big parade will be assembled downtown and a farewell trip will be taken to each of the local newspaper offices where the delegates will receive a send-off. Then they board a Union Pacific special at 10:50 a. m., with the observation car being an electric light sign "Advertising Club of Los Angeles, On to London"—and they're off.

STOPS BY ROUTE
Stopping at Salt Lake City, Thursday, at Omaha on Friday, where the train is changed to the Chicago and Northwestern Railway line, stopping at Chicago all day Saturday and changing to the Grand Trunk, spending Sunday morning at Niagara Falls and Sunday evening in Toronto, Can., the delegation will arrive in Montreal Monday morning. Here they will be guests of the Montreal Advertising Club all day. Leaving there in the evening, changing to the Rutland train at Albany, they arrive in New York City Tuesday morning, July 1.

Here the Southern California delegations meet those from various clubs throughout the United States and together they sail from New York City on the Cunarder Lancetia.

On the same day other delegations sail from New York on the United States liner, Republic, from Boston on the Cunarder Samaria, from Montreal on the Canadian Pacific liner Montcalm, and from Houston, Tex., on the French liner De La Salle.

Los Angeles and Southern California are going to be advertised extensively during the sea voyage. A special issue of the Blue Bird, the official organ of the Los Angeles Advertising Club, is being published and will be distributed in the boat. Samples of Southern California fruits, canned foods, and manufactured articles will also be distributed at large to the delegates from all of the other American cities. One evening's entertainment will be devoted to showing motion pictures of the growth in the residential, commercial and industrial districts of Los Angeles and Southern California.

The following committees have been working several months perfecting the plans for the trip under the direction of A. Carman Smith, president, and C. M. C. Raymond, executive secretary of the club. Transportation and travel information, C. M. C. Raymond and J. E. Bauer; finance, E. J. Elson, A. Carman Smith and C. M. C. Raymond; program, John M. Kemp; publishing, H. M. Wade, John M. Kemp, George Forsyth, William E. McKee; souvenirs and donations, A. R. Maas, Jack Frauenthal and Ralph Ford; entertainment, E. Edward Choate, L. E. Behrmer, Ralph Ford, Frank Guernsey; signs and decorations, William E. McKee; golf, H. J. Vacher, Jr.; contests and awards, A. D. Smith; photographer, Clare McCard; glad hand, W. E. Sutherland; and special events, Peggy Hamilton; sergeant-at-arms, W. A. Campbell; publicity, Charles R. Stuart.

ADVERTISING MEN TO GET INVITATION

A. C. Smith Will Carry
Bid of Los Angeles to London Convention

An invitation to the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World to hold their international convention in Los Angeles in 1932 will be extended to the organization by A. Carman Smith, retiring president of the Los Angeles Ad Club and delegate-at-large to the international convention of Advertising Clubs, which opens in London July 13, during his attendance at the convention.

Mr. Smith is also a member of the joint assembly of the Associated Advertising Clubs, the body which officially nominates the officers and transacts important business of the association. Commenting on the international convention Mr. Smith said:

"The outstanding purpose of such a convention is to get the big, broad-minded, serious-thinking men and women engaged in advertising, away from their desks so that they may get a better perspective on their own problems and on business in general. Out of such conferences have come all the great forward-looking movements in advertising progress. The man or woman who goes to this convention and who rubs elbows with the advertising men of the world cannot fail to return enriched and armed with the best of good work."

Mrs. Smith will accompany her husband and they will make stops at Chicago, Toronto and Montreal. After leaving London they will visit Edinburgh, Paris, Lucerne and points in Italy and Germany. They will sail for home from Naples in order to avoid themselves of the Mediterranean cruise. After studying the advertising situation in Europe, Mr. Smith plans to visit leading advertising agencies of the East and to confer with a number of publishers in the United States.

SAYS HE DODGED STEW
In spite of the cross-complaint of Martin A. Wolfkill that his wife had thrown a bowl of hot Spanish stew at him, a decree of divorce was granted Mrs. Victoria Dolores Wolfkill by Judge Clark when her suit for divorce was heard. He had pulled her ears and slapped her, Mrs. Wolfkill charged.

COLLECTS CHINESE PORCELAINS

World's Finest at Local Museum

Collector and Rare Specimens
A. Burlingame Johnson with two priceless vases.

HIS PORCELAINS WORLD'S FINEST

carved ebony cabinet for the porcelains which the owner has made during nine years in China, the design being after that exhibited at the World's Fair in Paris in 1889, with added graces. Opening one long door of this cabinet Mr. Johnson said: "If you would like to see a nice little nest of ruby-reds like sacred objects of an illustrious past in the Celestial Kingdom."

Stepping to a stand where reposed a dull brown incense burner with teakwood cover ornamented by a handle of coral in its natural form, Mr. Johnson picked up one of the rarest and most beautiful of celadons in the world, there being only three other porcelains of the kind in existence. The owner would place no monetary value on this specimen. That he priced this ten-centuries-old piece is at once shown by the almost loving manner in which he smooths the surface that springs into brilliant hues of purple, red and green when brought into the light.

FOUND IN AMERICA
The latest addition to the Johnson collection is a specimen only five inches in diameter called a Chinese writer's water-bottle. For the oriental writer, pouring his brush into the water, then wiping it over the dry ink tablet. Mr. Johnson bought this in New York last fall, having heard that it was for sale through a mutual friend. It was made in 1700, is of peach-blossom glaze, and was purchased for $1000, which sum he paid in gold.

"I know a genuine old Chinese porcelain at once," he said, "and I can place them at any period. It is instinct more than anything else by which one tells. The marks or letters of the Chinese are attached sometimes merely to indicate the style of decoration or with deliberate intent to deceive. The piece must be examined as carefully as an old picture. The paste, the glaze, the technique of coloring, the shape, the use of special marks, say one must see much with seeing eyes. In other words, he is gifted with the subtlest perception of small distinctions."

Mr. Johnson tells an interesting story of how he obtained many of his finest pieces, made during the Kang-he period, at which time the art of manufacturing porcelains reached its highest perfection.

FORTUNE EMBERS LOW
"In 1888," said Mr. Johnson, "when I first met the elder member of the family, he had lost practically all except the old homestead and his proud, undiminished dignity. Knowing the family needs, an effort was made to have a price paid for some fifty beautiful celadon specimens, presented to his ancestors by the Great Kang-he."

His humiliation at being in need of funds, compared with the might of disgrace which would oppress him if he parted with his illustrious legacy from his illustrious ancestor, the gifts from the Emperor, was a more opportune time. Later, this Chinese official came to me, saying he had secured the rare imperial porcelains for me; that he had induced the family to form an alliance with a wealthy merchant of China by marrying his son to the daughter of this merchant, and that I was to provide the funds for this bride's dowry. "When a daughter is taken as a bride, the parents of the groom must make a gift to the bride's father of a valuable object, according to the wealth and dignity of the families. This ceremony is sometimes erroneously called selling the daughters to become wives. It has no such significance. I was advised that the amount of the dowry was settled and that I was free to get funds to the old aristocrat so as to save his face as the Chinese express it."

REMOVED BY NIGHT
"In due time the collection was removed at night and carried away by servants from a distant town; the settlement was made, and it is to be hoped that the wedding resulted in as much happiness as those art pieces imparted to the collector."

A noted eastern porcelain expert recently stopped over in Pasadena on his way home from the years spent in China, collecting specimens for a wealthy eastern client. He stated that Mr. Johnson's collection could never again be equaled, and that he had had great difficulty in securing the few pieces he did get in the Orient. It is true that collectors of old Chinese porcelains are far better rewarded in their search in this country than in Europe, rather than in China itself.

Mr. Johnson also has some unexcused specimens of celadon, the writing of which is of purest gold. This ware did not originate in China, as is generally supposed, but came to that country from Arabia and Constantinople about 450 years ago. There are many specimens of rare, fine quality brought by Mr. Johnson from China. Some of these date back several thousand years before the Christ and photographs of them may be seen in the most authentic books on the subject.

WOMAN SENDING WIRE TO HUSBAND ROBBED

Mrs. Audrey Sharkey of 425 Brooks avenue, Venice, reported to police yesterday that while writing a telegram to her husband at New York at 408 South street, she noticed a man in a pocketbook containing $35 in cash and six diamond rings valued at $1500. She had intended to pawn the rings to defray the cost of an operation on her son.

PLAYGROUNDS SEASON OPEN

eral way, the camps are not exclusively for children, or for boys and girls, but are for the entire family. They are given the name "playground camps" because they were started by the Playground Commission, and are run under the supervision of that body.

In the early days when the city camps were considered as a dubious experiment, the outings were provided alternately for boys and girls. But as Miss Alma Wilson, general manager of the playground camps, explained in a lecture given recently at the State convention of the National Playground Commission, it was found that the fathers liked to go camping with their boys, and the mothers enjoyed taking their vacations with their daughters.

"So we thought that if the fathers wanted to spend their vacations with their sons, and the mothers with their daughters, why wouldn't the entire family have a good time going camping together?" Miss Wilson said.

WEALTHY ATTEND
The first "family group" was such a success that practically all of the outings now attend to Camp Seelye and Camp Radford are of this type.

Neither are the camps for the poor people of the city, as the extremely low cost leads many to believe. The wholesome, homey atmosphere attracts the "real folks" of all classes. Many wealthy people who could well afford to patronize the more fashionable camps, choose to come to Camp Seelye or Camp Radford, and many of them, being greatly impressed with their "value received," contribute toward a trust fund which is kept for the purpose of providing outings for those who cannot afford even the small charge that is made. In this way life is equalized for those who come to the camps and the playground camps are recognized as being among the most democratic and cosmopolitan spots in Southern California.

"How can the camps be maintained so cheaply?" is the question that is asked by every one who comes into the camps.

MANY FACTORS
The answer to this is a long one. Suffice it to say that all provisions are bought in large quantities; a straight menu is served, so that the waste is reduced to the minimum; campers provide their own bedding, thus eliminating this expense entirely; the cost of transportation is materially reduced by the fact that the campers go in large numbers, using special rates; part of the work is done by the campers themselves and about two-thirds of the help is volunteer, their services in return for an enjoyable vacation and valuable experience.

The part of the work which the campers do is estimated to amount to one hour a day for each person, and is often considered the happiest part of the daily routine because of the system and joyful spirit of cooperation with which it is accomplished.

With so much necessary explanation out of the way, let us journey on with some of the fortunate vacationists to Camp Seelye. Arriving at the San Bernardino station, we are met by the commodious stages of the Mountain View Lines, and our bodies are loaded on the rear, we all find seats, and in a twinkling we are off on the seventeen-mile drive over a road which is the finest in the world. The ride to camp takes us up the beautiful Waterman Canyon, up the hill to the top of the world, where the view of the valley and the road below us, on to Crestline, and the hills to the west, is a sight where the pleasant camp is located.

RECEIVE GREETING
Here we find Miss French, Billy the cook, "Daddy" Barton, and others waiting to greet us and to make our first camp-week's stay something to be remembered.

Somewhere in one of these fifty-three little green-roofed cabins which form the semicircle about the pow-wow center and the rustic lodge we will be located. As soon as we have all been assigned to our cabins the dinner bell will ring and we will dash for the dining-room, where we will be served, in cafeteria style, with the wonderful mountain food which Billy Martin has provided against our coming. Perhaps the first thing to happen to us after this will be that we are informed that we are "on duty" for the first time. That seems pretty quick to have to do our hour of work, but we find that it will be accomplished in far less time than the hour to which we agreed. In the time the enamelware dishes are put through the enormous vats of boiling water, wiped and put away, and we are free for perhaps two days with nothing to do but enjoy ourselves.

PROVIDES GAMES
Aside from meeting dozens of interesting persons—and just as likely as not our next-door neighbors in the city are apt to be among these—there will be many things to occupy our time. Prompt games of volley ball, baseball, tennis, croquet, horse-shoes, hikes to Skagit Canyon, Skyland, the Little Molave River in parties headed by a trained hike leader, and swimming in the pool are among the amusements provided for the daytime.

Perhaps we will consider the evening hours the most delightful of all. On nights when it is too cold to sit around the camp fire out of doors we will gather around the huge lodge fireplace. Singing songs, dancing, and doing anything that suggests itself. On the warmer evenings there will be entertainment provided by ourselves for the group that will gather at the pow-wow center.

BACK OF CAMP

Back of this camp and the others which have been successfully launched during the last few years is the Los Angeles Playground Commission, of which F. G. Leonard, I. F. Hughes, Mrs. Alice Lynch, Mrs. Arthur Weil and C. S. Lamb, the secretary, are the members. C. B. Riatt superintendent of playgrounds, and Miss Alma Wilson, who recently gave up going to Camp Seelye as the director in order to take charge of the entire camp system.

It is due to the untiring loyalty of these persons to the ideals of democracy that prompted the foundation of the first camp that has made it possible for thousands of Los Angeles people to work out in a practical way that beautiful advice of John Muir's: "Climb the mountains and get their good tidings. Nature's peace will flow into you as sunshine flows into trees; the winds will blow their own freshness into you, and the storms their energy, while cares drop off like autumn leaves."

C. R. HADLEY LAST RITES TO BE TODAY

Services from Hollywood Cemetery Chapel for Former Business Man

Funeral services for Charles R. Hadley, president and founder of the company that bears his name, will be conducted today at 10:30 a. m. from the chapel of Hollywood Cemetery, 6000 Santa Monica Boulevard, Los Angeles.

Charles R. Hadley, Jr., were at the bedside when death came. Death was caused by heart trouble. During the World War Mr. Hadley served in France with the rank of captain. He was a member of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the Beach Club, the Bohemian Club of San Francisco and other organizations. He was widely known in this city and Southern California. The widow and sons are his only survivors.

AIRPLANES TO FLY AT LAKE

acrobatics or stunts, accurate landing, quick takeoff and a ten-mile cross-country race. Three events seldom seen in meets will be staged by the stunt flyer Charles Widmer. These include wing-walking, tail spin with Widmer on the upper surface of the upper wing and a parachute drop. Dave Matthews will pilot his plane in these events.

The program starts at 2 p. m. The aviators will be given a luncheon at noon and the Golden State Band will furnish music throughout the afternoon.

Charles Widmer, president of the Los Turas Lake Club, has extended a cordial invitation to all who are interested in aviation to be guests of the club for the entire day. Sherwood Forest, made famous by Douglas Fairbanks's picture, "Robin Hood," has been converted into picnic grounds, and ample facilities for auto parking have been arranged.

Los Turas Lake lies partly in Los Angeles county and partly in Ventura county. It is just south of the bank of the Santa Ana River, about three miles from the Coast Highway, and is a portion of the old Potrero Ranch, owned by F. W. Matthews, Jr., nationally known for his thoroughbred horses.

In addition to the regular events a number of motion-picture people have signified their intention of being present and to perform a few little stunts to add to the merriment. As guests of honor, President Davidson has invited a number of well-known citizens and public officials of Los Angeles, Ventura, Oxnard and Santa Paula, which include Jacob Baum, Gene Biscailuz, Ida H. Brokaw, A. Camerillo, R. E. Clark, William de Mille, George L. Eastman, Ben H. Hampton, Rupert Hughes, R. A. Johnson, John Lagomarsino, Charles Ray, Leo Smith, William H. Snider, Sheriff Traeger, Chief of Police Volmer, Harley Walker, Bryant Washburn, Acting Mayor Workman, Francis Bonner and Peggy Shaw.
